The Knitter's Guide to Boston

By Meganne Fabrega

It won't take you long to figure out why Boston holds a special place in the hearts of knitters. Crisp fall air, snowy winter nights—handspun wool feels like a requirement, beyond its status as a hallowed seasonal ritual. Luckily, there are loads of shops that put gorgeous yarns in the hands of eager stitchers. Our three-day tour of the area hits the highlights, plus knitty pitstops along the way.

Day One: Downtown Boston
Start your yarn journey on tony Newbury Street at Newbury Yarns (164 Newbury St., 617-572-3733, www.newburyyarns.com) where you can splurge on super-soft cashmeres, silky bamboos, or warm and fuzzy balls of angora. If your yarn budget's tight, make your way across the Boston Common to Windsor Button (35 Temple Pl., 617-482-4969, www.windsorbutton.com). Boston's knitters sing the praises of this little craft gem located in the financial district. Sporting over 40 different lines of yarn, it's got embellishments too: appliques, trims, ribbons, and an entire wall filled with buttons.

By now you'll need some sustenance, so make your way to Faneuil Hall Marketplace to hobnob with tourists and locals alike. From a sit-down dinner at Todd English's Kingfish Hall to grabbing a cup of chowder and people-watching on the steps, you don't want to miss one of Boston's tastiest landmarks. If you're up for an adventure, cross the river on the T (translation: the MBTA, Boston's public transportation, www.mbta.com) to Harvard Square and Mr. Bartley's Gourmet Burgers (1246 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, 617-354-6559, www.mrbartley.com) where you can feast on The Joe Biden or The John McCain burgers, depending on your tastes—political or foodie. While Boston's hotels can be pretty pricey, The Midtown Hotel (www.midtownhotel.com) in downtown Boston will keep you near all the action without breaking the bank.

The Boston Terrier, nicknamed 'The American Gentleman,' looks dapper in this small-breed knit sweater.

Salem

Day Two: Salem, Mass.
You're back on the T again, this time heading out to Witch City—Salem, Mass., where you'll find Seed Stitch (21 Front St., Salem, 978-744-5557, www.seedstitchfineyarn.com), a beautiful boutique of gorgeous yarns from all over the world. Get ready for some heavy yarn petting, because you'll be hard pressed to leave without a bag full of fiber, vintage buttons from Europe, or a shawl

Time your trip around The Fiber Festival of New England (nesheep.org/fiberfest.html) on Nov. 6-7 in West Springfield, Mass., to swap tips with other yarn addicts.

“Coven’s whoopie pies are the best in town.”

Salem, you can choose from seafood at The Lobster Shanty (25 Front St., Salem, 978-745-5449), bruschetta and a beer at the Gulu-Gulu Café (247 Essex St., Salem, 978-740-8882, www.gulu-gulu.com), or super-yummy desserts at Coven (281 Essex St., Salem, 978-741-0500). Coven’s whoopie pies are the best in town, so be sure to take one home for a midnight snack.

Day Three: Northampton, Moss. It’s time to hit the open road, so head West on Route 2 through the changing leaves of Western Mass. and head spike hand-forged by a local craftsman. Good bites abound in for Northampton, home to Webs (75 Service Center Rd., Northampton, 1-800-367-9327, www.yarn.com). Yes, those are the yarn angels you hear singing as you pull into the parking lot because it’s heaven for knitters every day here. What yarns do they carry? What yarns don’t they carry? This is the place to find that extra-special skein (or six) you’ve been searching for, so plan to spend a couple hours combing through the bins. Now that you’ve bulked up your yarn stash even more (is there any room left in the trunk?), head on over to local favorite Woodstar Café (60 Masonic St., Northampton, 413-585-9777) for a hot cup of cocoa with fresh whipped cream and the Happy Valley sandwich, then grab a loaf of their freshly baked bread to bring back home. ✧

Boston Locals: Knittin’ for Kittens!

Last year, Hilary Ridge decided to take up knitting she went to a local meeting to find some like-minded crafters her age. Instead, she found herself sitting alone with her needles: no one had shown up.

Ridge didn’t let that stop her quest for knitting buddies and decided to start her own group, using Meetup.com as a forum. Ridge’s Brookline Knits! Group has almost 200 knitters keeping tabs on Boston’s knitting happenings. To unite the group around a charity, Ridge partnered up with a local animal rescue group, Calliope Rescue, and started a knit-a-long of cat-friendly items. The group made cat toys, blankets, and cat beds that were used to comfort the animals or sold to raise funds for the shelter. Here’s a photo from one “kitten playday” with Ridge and some furry pals.

These ornaments make great family heirlooms!

❖ Looking Back ❖

I come from a family where handmade gifts have always been highly prized holiday plunder. From homemade chocolates (Needhams, of course, a must-have Maine tradition) and my Nana's hot milk bread, to various knit, sewn, and quilted items, everyone in my family has always gone into crafting overdrive at holiday time. Well, maybe not my dad, who prefers tinkering on motorcycles. But one of my most prized holiday gifts came from my grandfather, who gave all the grandchildren tiny, wooden red sled tree ornaments with our names carefully painted on top.

I strive to uphold this tradition. Some years, those on my gift list may receive a basket filled with raspberry and blueberry jam, made from berries my sons and I picked. However, most often my gifts are knit items. For the past few years I have conveniently decided to go with specific themes. Last year it was hats, the year before that, scarves, and this year it is fingerless gloves. In the past, I have literally knit the same pair of mittens for everyone on my gift list, in various sizes. But this year I am branching out—stretching my wings (or needles as the case may be) and knitting up a different design for each recipient. Not only a labor of love but a learning experience too. Let the holiday knitting begin! —Kris Percival

Q Getting ruffles just right is no picnic—but I love them! What can I do to make them look pretty and elegant instead of "poofy" and retro?

—NATASHA
Pittsburgh, PA

A The sweater on page 33 is one example of ruffles done right. Too often, knitters throw in an enormous number of increases willy-nilly, make the ruffle too long, and end up with something best left in the 1980s. Let's go over how ruffles are created to show how you can improve on them.

Ruffles create larger amounts of fabric on the outer edge so the fabric will fan out in a wave. For the most basic ruffle, you can alternate one row worked plain with another where you've spaced out the increases at regular intervals. You can also work ruffles in reverse by starting out with more stitches and decreasing every other row instead—most scarf patterns featuring ruffles on either end will use both methods.

The number of rows between increase rounds make a difference in the final ruffle's look, as does your choice of increase (for lacy and frilly, pick yarn overs; for a more solid fabric, you can knit into the front and back of the stitch). For really tight and wavy ruffles in a short number of rows, pick up stitches on the edge of a scarf or a buttonband and increase on every single stitch of every single row.

“In my opinion, with ruffles, you either need to be subtle or go all out—there is no in-between.”

To go back to your original question, it's easy to update ruffles with a modern flair.

Why not try asymmetrical ruffles on a shorty scarf? Cast stitches on to a long circular needle and space out the increases irregularly, increasing every time you reach a marker. Make a series of short ruffles on the surface of already-knitted fabric (think ruffled lingerie bottoms). In my opinion, with ruffles, you either need to be subtle or go all out—there is no in-between.

To keep a consistent tension while Fair Isle knitting, place one yarn strand around your thumb and one around your pointer finger.

Q I love to knit Fair Isle patterns but I have a difficult time keeping the yarn loose as I carry it. What can I do? (P.S.: I knit English, not Continental.)

✦ MARINA
Arlington, MA

A This is one of those issues that can make even the most carefully knit piece look awful. First, you can try holding one yarn in either hand to help you loosen up. Yes, it's awkward at first, but it's also worth a try in order to avoid repetitive stress injuries.

That said, I generally knit English, and one of the tricks I've found that helps me keep a consistent tension is to place one yarn strand around my thumb and one around my pointer finger, then rotate my wrist to place the yarn in the right location as I wrap one strand or the other around the needle to make a new stitch (see photo). It also keeps your strands' positions consistent if yarn A is always on your thumb and yarn B on your finger. You'll get a much neater non-public side of the work. ✦

Q What kind of yarn should I choose for a project that will get a lot of wear and tear?

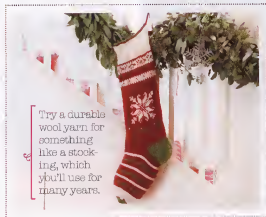

✦ PAMELA
Crystal Lake, IL

that way, if it gets dirty, it's small enough to hand wash and dry flat.

If you want to knit a blanket, consider multifiber-blended yarns. Much as I love the afghans my grandmother made more than 35 years ago, the new yarns could survive an apocalypse. For a soft blanket with lots of drape that you can toss in the washer, try microfiber blends. Carefully check the label: you want something that can go straight into the dryer, too. There are also acrylic/nylon blends that have staying power (plus easy care) on their side.

A It really depends on the project. For something that you hope will last decades (such as the Holiday Stocking shown right; pattern on page 87), but will only be used once or twice a year, you can choose something less robust than you would if you were knitting a blanket. I would be more willing to knit a stocking in 100% wool yarn, provided the gauge was sufficiently tight—after all, you don't want candy and oranges spilling out of the bottom before morning! And

Try a durable wool yarn for something like a stocking, which you'll use for many years.

Beginner Basics

Whether you're new to knitting or just want to rekindle your love for it, we've got all the basics you need right here. Over the next four pages we'll show you everything you need to know to start your first project: from tying a slipknot and casting on to basic knit and purl stitches and binding off. Just grab a pair of knitting needles and a ball of yarn (more about pairing up the right yarn with your needles on page 55) and start your stitching.

knit tip
A good knit depends on a good knot, so don't rush it. The knot is pretty easy once you practice a bit.

Start here

How to Hold Your Needles

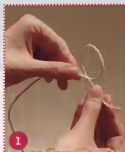

There are plenty of ways to hold your needles, and you should go with what feels most comfortable, but this photo shows the most common way. Hold the left-hand needle approximately 2 in (5 cm) from the point as if you're about to sharpen a pencil. In your right hand, hold your needle as you would a pen.

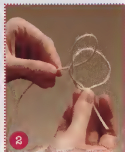

How to Hold Your Yarn

When you start knitting it's easy to get into the habit of "throwing" your yarn (taking your right hand off the needle to wind the wool around). However, this can lead to a tight and uneven tension. Practice knitting by weaving the yarn through your fingers as shown (some people like to wrap it around their little finger, too). Then, keeping your right hand on the needle, let the yarn feed through your fingers as you knit, using the tip of your index finger to guide the yarn around your needle.

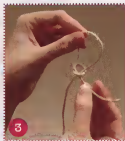

How to Tie a Slipknot

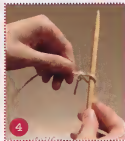

Take your yarn and make a loop as shown here, with the ball end of yarn in your left hand and the free end in your right hand.

Holding where the two pieces of yarn meet on the first loop in your right hand, use the left hand to make another loop and feed it from the back, through the first loop.

Pull the second loop through the first loop so that the first becomes tight.

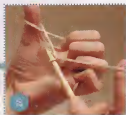

Feed your needle through the big loop and pull the ball end of the yarn until the loop comfortably holds the needle. Now you're ready to start casting on.

Cast On: Thumb Method

USE THIS ALL-PURPOSE CAST-ON FOR AN ELASTIC EDGE—IT WORKS WELL FOR RIBBING.

Place a slipknot with a long tail of 1 in (2.5 cm) per stitch on one needle. Hold the needle and yarn in your right hand.

Holding the tail end in your left hand, wrap it around your left thumb by bringing the needle across to the left, over and around your thumb.

Insert the point of the needle through the loop from front to back, then wind the ball end around the needle, going from left to right.

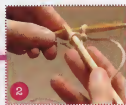

Pull the loop through the thumb loop, then move the thumb over the tip of the needle. Remove your thumb and pull the yarn to tighten.

Cast On: Cable Method

CHOOSE THIS CAST-ON FOR A FIRM EDGE, AND WHEN ADDING STITCHES WITHIN YOUR WORK.

Make a slipknot and put the right-hand needle behind the knot. Wind the yarn around the tip of the right-hand needle counterclockwise.

Pull the right-hand needle back under the left-hand needle, keeping the yarn loop on the tip as you bring it toward you.

Pull the loop out with the right-hand needle, then slip it over the end of the tip of the left-hand needle, as shown above.

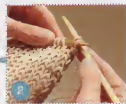

Insert your needle between the stitches on the left-hand needle and repeat the steps until you have a cast-on row of stitches.

Bind Off

Start by knitting the first two stitches of the row as usual, but don't go further along as you normally would.

Insert the left-hand needle through the first stitch, as shown. Lift this stitch over the other stitch on the right-hand needle and over the needle point.

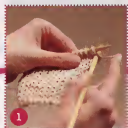

Knit another stitch so you have two on the right-hand needle. Lift the first stitch over the second, then repeat steps 1-3 again.

When you get to the last stitch, cut the yarn about 6 in (15 cm) away, feed it through the loop and pull through firmly.

How to Knit

THIS IS THE FIRST STITCH YOU NEED TO LEARN TO GET STARTED.

Hold the needle with the stitches in your left hand. Ensuring that the yarn you're holding in your right hand is at the back of your work, insert the point of the right-hand needle into the front loop of the first stitch.

Wind the yarn (coming from the ball) clockwise around the point of the right-hand needle using your index finger. Keeping the yarn in your right hand relatively taut is important to keep on even tension.

Carefully bring the right-hand needle back through the loop, making sure that you catch the yarn you wound around the needle. This will create the stitch. If you're finding this tricky, it could be that you're pulling the free yarn too tightly. Let out some slack and your stitch should flow more freely.

Push the point of the right needle further through the stitch you created, then gently pull the right needle to your left, taking the original loop with it. You've now created one "knit" stitch. Repeat this process across all the stitches. When you get to the end of the row, turn your work, swap the needles to the other hands, and start again.

knit tip
The knit stitch forms the basis of all other knitting stitches. Once you've practiced this and you're happy with the results, give the purl stitch a go.

How to Purl

PERFECTED KNIT? MOVE ON TO THE NEXT STITCH YOU NEED TO KNOW.

Hold the needle with the stitches in your left hand. Ensure that your ball-end yarn is at the front of your work, then insert the right-hand needle through the front loop of your first stitch.

Wind the yarn around the tip of the right-hand needle from right to left, in a counter-clockwise motion, keeping a slight tension on the yarn.

Now slip the right-hand needle back through the stitch, ensuring that you "catch" the yarn that you've already wound around the needle. This creates a stitch on your right-hand needle, as shown.

Pushing the point of the right-hand needle a little further through the stitch you've just created, pull the first stitch off the left-hand needle. Congratulations, you've just created your first purl stitch! Now repeat steps 1-4 across the row, and when you've finished, turn your work, swap the needles to the other hands, and start again.

knit tip
Once you've mastered the knit and purl stitches, you'll be ready to tackle your first garment. Our humble suggestion for your first project: Try tackling a scarf.

What's in Your Bag?

Maggie Pace
Author of Felt Forward
(Interweave Press, 2007),
lets us peek into her (very full) knitting tote.

Fabric swatches
I always keep swatches for inspiring color combinations. It really helps when selecting yarn for multicolor projects.

Graph paper
I keep graph paper and colored pencils or pens to sketch out Fair Isle ideas.

Scissors
These are my mom's. She's my business partner at Pick Up Sticks and I'm forever stealing her tools because I'm so disorganized, I can never find my own!

Knitting bag by Offhand Designs

The bag's designed and made in my hometown, Oakland, CA, and holds a ton of yarn and my longest needles. The interior pockets keep the little things organized too. It's functional and it matches the modern design of my living room!

Double-point needle organizer, Della Q
Another independent designer...without her organizers, my needles would be all over the house!

Tape measure & stitch gauge ruler
These are special because they're from my grandma's collection of needles and notions; I use many of her tools when I work. She was a huge crafter and inspired my career.

Yarn & needles
There's always a live project (or two) in my bag. Many don't see the light of day, but some turn into a real pattern.

CHECK OUT MAGGIE'S FELT PATTERNS AND KITS AT pickupsticksonline.com

Just picked up needles for the first time? Then you probably fall into the Beginner category. But don't let that stop you from trying an Easy pattern too (think one color change). For more on skill levels, check back to page 55.

Here you'll find the quantity and type(s) of yarn you need to make the project shown, plus specific information about the yarn's weight, fiber content, and more. If you want to substitute a different yarn, use this info to help find a close match. When we use more than one color in the pattern, we give abbreviations such as A, B, C, etc. Also get your knitting needle and notions info here: stuff like stitch markers, yarn needles, beads, buttons, and so on.

Read through each pattern before you start to give yourself a clear idea of how all the pieces will fit together to create the final piece.

This section tells you what gauge (or number of stitches per inch) the pattern requires. If your gauge swatch is too small, increase the size of your needle; if your swatch is too large, decrease the size of your needle and give it another go.

We show a list of our abbreviations on page 55. But some patterns may list special ones you may not find in the master list.

These drawings show you the basic shape and dimensions of each piece of the project. Compare the dimensions of your finished piece to the dimensions shown on the schematic to make sure you're on track.

We give the dimensions for the smallest size(s) of the project, with largest sizes given in parentheses, as in S (M, L, XL). Circle your size throughout the pattern before you start stitching, and be aware: sizes refer to the finished piece, not to body measurements.

Check this section to sample your gauge so you can make sure the project will fit/look right.

Make 1 Increase

HERE'S ONE WAY TO INCREASE AND IS USUALLY ABBREVIATED WITH M1.

Knit the number of stitches the pattern requires you to do before the increase.
Now insert the point of the right-hand needle under the loop or line of yarn that lies between the two stitches.

2

Slip the picked-up strand to left-needle, twisting.

3

Knit the picked-up strand through the back loop and slip from the left-hand needle.

USING THE TRIED-AND-TESTED K2TOG, YARN FORWARD TECHNIQUE.

1
 Knit 2 stitches together, then bring the yarn through your needles to the front.

2
 With the yarn over the right needle, knit a stitch as normal.

3
 Continue knitting the row as normal. Your yarn over needle remains as a loop.

4
 This is what the reverse of your work looks like (the loop you made is on the left needle, second stitch from the point).

5
 On the following rows, work the loop as if it were a stitch. Don't worry if they look uneven, the tension will sort itself out as you go on.
